INTRODUCTION

As a district leader, you are part of Toastmasters International, an organization with a noble mission: to empower individuals to become more effective communicators and leaders.

Encouraging educational excellence in each club is fundamental in accomplishing this mission. Members receive the full benefits of their membership through the Toastmasters communication and leadership programs.

Serving as a district leader is a great responsibility and an exciting opportunity. Your term of office is filled with chances for you to renew your perspective, practice teamwork and develop your capacity to translate values and strategies into productive actions.

Members of your district team depend on you to help them develop their own goals and achievements. Clubs see you as a facilitator to their success. You instill a sense of enthusiasm, fidelity and responsibility throughout your district.

The tools and resources in this handbook can help you create strategies for success and fulfill your duties as a leader. Publications available on the Toastmasters International website are called out throughout this handbook. You can use these resources to find answers to your leadership questions, whether you’re an experienced leader or a novice.

As a district leader, it is your duty to uphold Toastmasters International’s bylaws, policies and protocols. Excerpts from these governing documents are referenced throughout this handbook. For further information and clarification, please regard the governing documents at www.toastmasters.org/policies as the ultimate source of authority on any given topic.

A district’s success depends on the quality of its leadership. It is up to you to create and maintain an atmosphere of enjoyment, teamwork and dedication. You are responsible for fulfilling the district mission and achieving recognition in the Distinguished District Program.

A successful district establishes a climate in which everyone is committed to the district’s mission.

DISTRICT-LEVEL LEADERSHIP POSITIONS

In order to lead your team effectively, you must first understand your role within the organization as a district leader. Having a clear understanding of your responsibilities and the appropriate procedures for your role is essential to the success of the district. Once you know your responsibilities, you can work cohesively with your team members and fellow district leaders.

The district-level leadership positions described in this handbook are each represented by an icon specific to that role. Throughout the handbook, identify information especially pertinent to your role by locating your icon in the margins:
While the region advisor role is an international-level position and not a district-level leadership position, it is a primary resource for district leaders. Therefore, when information important to the role is mentioned, the region advisor icon appears.

District Leader Responsibilities

- Uphold the governing documents of Toastmasters International.
- Foster an atmosphere of enjoyment, teamwork and dedication in the spirit of learning, growing and achieving.
- Work to fulfill the district mission.
- Strive to achieve recognition in the Distinguished District Program.
- Prepare your successor to assume office.

DISTRICT GOVERNMENT

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS
Article II: Purpose
The purpose of the district is to enhance the quality and performance and extend the network of the member clubs of Toastmasters International within the boundaries of the district, thereby offering greater numbers of people the opportunity to benefit from the Toastmasters educational program by focusing on the critical success factors as specified by the district educational and membership goals, ensuring that each club effectively fulfills its responsibilities to its individual members, and providing effective training and leadership-development opportunities for club and district officers.

GOVERNING DOCUMENTS

Toastmasters International Governing Documents

- Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of Toastmasters International
- District Administrative Bylaws
- Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International
- Policies and Protocol

Each district is governed by the bylaws, policies and protocol of the organization; the District Administrative Bylaws is the governing document that specifically addresses district leadership and operations. While districts cannot create policy, they do have the ability to implement procedure manuals that capture operational processes at the district level. Districts may not register as a separate entity with local government agencies unless directed by Toastmasters International.

Throughout this handbook, information presented verbatim from a governing document is called out from the regular text. Often, articles, sections, policies and bylaws include more information than is pertinent to the subject matter at hand. In these cases, keep in mind that only the applicable excerpt is cited.

DISTRICT PROCEDURES

Districts may establish procedures to provide consistency and help guide district leaders from year to year. Procedures may be established and changed by either the district executive committee or the district council.

District operating procedures may not be called “policy” or “protocol,” and they cannot duplicate, contradict or be more restrictive than Toastmasters International governing documents. Only Toastmasters’ Board of Directors may create policies.

Consult District Services at World Headquarters before adopting new district procedures or before making significant changes to existing procedures, and provide a copy of your district’s procedures manual to World Headquarters for review. Each year, post district procedures on the district website.

KEYS TO FULFILLING THE DISTRICT MISSION

- Build new clubs and support all clubs
- Establish clear, measurable goals
- Develop and execute a plan
- Train
- Budget resources—time, money, materials and people
- Recognize and reward achievement
DISTRICT COMMITTEES
Through various district committees, members and district leaders work together and build effective teams that support the district and enhance the quality of the member experience.

DISTRICT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
The district executive committee includes the district director, program quality director, club growth director, public relations manager, district administration manager, district finance manager, area directors, division directors and immediate past district governor. Apart from these leadership roles, only individuals who are invited by the district director and have specific business before the committee may attend district executive committee meetings. In order to conduct business at these meetings, a quorum is required. A quorum is established when a majority of district executive committee members attend the meeting. The committee is subject to the direction and approval of the district council. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article XI:
Committees, (a) District Executive Committee.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Protocol 7.1: District Events, 4. District Executive Committee Meetings, D
The district executive committee meets at least four times each year. Meetings are conducted in-person when practicable.

District Executive Committee Duties
- Review and approve the District Success Plan.
- Present district budget to the district council for approval.
- Oversee the district’s financial operation.
- Recommend the assignment of clubs to areas and divisions.
- Review recommendations and reports of district committees.
- Assume tasks assigned by the district council.
- Review ethics and conduct issues as needed.

District Procedure to Discipline a Member
The district executive committee is empowered to resolve disputes related to district-level activities. A district disciplinary procedure helps the committee resolve these disputes.
When necessary, this procedure allows districts to discipline committee members, other appointed district officials or Toastmasters members participating in district activities.

A Toastmasters member who expresses concern about any ethics and conduct issues or other violation involving another member participating in district activities may submit a formal written complaint to the district director. If the district director determines the complaint is reasonably credible, a confidential and timely investigation must be completed in an effort to reach a mutually agreeable resolution. If a resolution is not reached, the district director informs District Services at World Headquarters and refers the matter to the district executive committee to determine if a hearing is needed. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 3.0: Ethics and Conduct, 3. District Procedure to Discipline a Member. Removal of a district leader requires a two-thirds vote by the entire district executive committee. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article VII: Officers, (g) Resignation or Removal.

If anyone ever threatens to take legal action for an issue related to Toastmasters, the World Headquarters Executive Team must be contacted immediately via executive@toastmasters.org.

OTHER DISTRICT COMMITTEES
Other committees may be appointed by the district director or the district council. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article XI: Committees, (d) Other Committees.

Possible District Committees
- Program quality committee
- Club growth committee
- Public relations committee
- Youth Leadership program committee
- Speechcraft committee
- Administrative policies committee
- Awards committee
- Speakers bureau committee
- Newsletter committee
- Past district directors committee

The more active committees a district has, the more it can accomplish. That is why it is important for the district director, program quality director and club growth director to empower motivated members to participate in district committees. You’ll find district committees mentioned throughout the handbook.

DISTRICT COUNCIL

DISTRICT COUNCIL AUTHORITY
The district council—which includes district leaders, club presidents and vice presidents education—serves as the administrative governing body of the district, operating with powers delegated to the district council by the Board of Directors of Toastmasters International. The district council conducts all business of the district, assumes responsibility for the payment of all debts incurred in the presentation of district council meetings and other district functions, and does not assess or impose any financial obligation on any club or member of a club. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article IX: District Council, (b) Authority.
DISTRICT COUNCIL MEETINGS

The district council holds at least two regular meetings during each year. One of the required meetings is held between March 15 and June 1. The other required meeting is held as soon as practical after the Toastmasters International Annual Business Meeting, but no later than December 1.

Both of the regular meetings are held in conjunction with a district conference. Even so, notice of any regular meeting is sent in writing to all district council members at least four weeks in advance. Include the dates of the council meetings and conferences on the district website and in communications to club and district leaders during the year.

District committee chairs and others whose participation the council requires may attend. Members attending the district conference who are not voting members of the council or their proxies may attend but do not participate in council deliberations. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 7.1: District Events, 5. District Council Meetings, C.

Both meeting schedules include education programs or sessions for all district council members in attendance.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 7.1: District Events, 5. District Council Meetings, D

At district council meetings, unless noted, the following business is conducted:

I. The district mission is reviewed.
II. The credentials committee report is presented.
III. The audit committee report is presented.
IV. The district budget is adopted at the first district council meeting.
V. The Profit and Loss Statement is presented.
VI. Appointed officers are confirmed at the first district council meeting.
VII. The district executive committee’s action to fill any vacancies in district office is confirmed.
VIII. The assignment of clubs to areas and divisions for the following year is adopted at the district council annual meeting.
IX. The nominating committee report is presented at the district council annual meeting.
X. Nominations from the floor are taken, and election of district officers is conducted at the district council annual meeting.
XI. The district director, program quality director, club growth director, immediate past district governor, and public relations manager report on progress toward district goals.

District Council Quorum

A quorum is needed to conduct business. If any business is done at council meetings where a quorum is not present, then a majority of the clubs must approve the action through a post-meeting vote. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article X: Council Meetings, Quorum, Proxies and Voting, (a) Regular meetings.
DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article X: Council Meetings, Quorum, Proxies, and Voting, (c) Quorum

One-third of the club presidents and vice presidents education from member clubs in the district, or proxies...shall constitute a quorum for all district council meetings. In the event that any business is transacted at any district council meeting at which a quorum is not present, the action shall be deemed as valid as if a quorum were present if it thereafter is expressly approved in writing, personally, by mail, fax, email, electronic transmission or other reasonable means, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the member clubs in the district on the basis of two (2) votes per club.

RECORDS

All district funds, bank statements, canceled checks, original invoices, check requests and other financial documents are the property of Toastmasters International and not of any individual, area, division or district. The finance manager is responsible for storing and preserving records for the current administrative year, and the records must be made freely available to district leaders and to individual members to inspect and review.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Policy 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 2

All district funds, regardless of source, are Toastmasters International funds and are to be used to carry out the Toastmasters International and district missions.

Outgoing district leaders must deliver all district funds and records to the new finance manager or new district director no later than July 1 of each new district administrative year. The outgoing district treasurer and the outgoing district governor may retain copies of any records necessary to complete the district Year-end Audit. If they receive any funds, statements or other financial documents after July 1 they must immediately give them to the new finance manager or new district director.

In order to satisfy United States Internal Revenue Service requirements, the district must send to World Headquarters, by August 31 each year, original records for the previous administrative year for storage at World Headquarters. Toastmasters International honors requisitions for funds and supply orders after August 31 only if it has received these records.

Correspondence, memoranda and other communications received by a district are district records and Toastmasters International property.

The district director must determine whether the contents of these communications should be shared with other district leaders and their method of distribution based on the best interests of the district and Toastmasters International.
Other materials must also be kept for specific lengths of time:

DISTRICT STRUCTURE

DISTRICT ALIGNMENT

All districts have geographic boundaries. The geographic boundaries of a district are established at the time of its formation. A description of district boundaries is included in Article V of the District Administrative Bylaws. Should the district want to change its boundaries, any proposed changes must be approved by the district councils of all districts involved and submitted to World Headquarters for the consideration of the Board of Directors.

Once each year, districts must review and amend, if necessary, the alignment of the clubs, areas and divisions within their boundaries. The result is subject to the approval of the district council at its annual meeting between March 15 and June 1.

Changes cannot be made after the approval, so it is important that the alignment is correct because it is effective throughout the year.

Individual alignment templates will be sent to districts by the end of June. Alignment plans are returned to World Headquarters by July 15 on the template provided. No other format is accepted.

Take the necessary time to discuss strategy with the district alignment committee and define goals and expectations.

To help with this task, here is a proposed timeline:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>January/February</th>
<th>February/March</th>
<th>April/May</th>
<th>June/July</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The alignment committee identifies alignment changes, gathering input from area and division directors as needed. To ensure leadership roles are filled appropriately during the next program year, the alignment committee must inform the nominating committee about any proposed changes.</td>
<td>The alignment committee prepares the alignment proposal and provides it to the district executive committee for review. The district gives appropriate notice to clubs affected by the alignment being considered.</td>
<td>The district council approves final alignment.</td>
<td>The alignment is reported to Toastmasters International. Clubs, areas and divisions are provided with the final alignment.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

THE DISTRICT ALIGNMENT COMMITTEE

The task of aligning the clubs, areas and divisions within the district is the responsibility of the district alignment committee. The district alignment committee is a group of district members appointed by the district director and led by the alignment chair. The alignment chair ensures the committee prepares an alignment proposal and submits it to the district executive committee prior to the district council meeting.

It is never too early to form a committee to review the district’s alignment and put forward a structure for the next program year. The committee should construct a plan that serves the clubs in the most effective way possible while meeting Toastmasters International policy requirements. It is important for the district to consider club growth as well as club loss when creating its proposal.

Each area has a minimum of four clubs and no more than six clubs. An area with fewer than four clubs is cause for concern in terms of long-term growth potential. Under no circumstances may an area have more than six clubs at the beginning of the program year, July 1. However, an area may consist of three clubs on July 1 if a concentrated effort to charter a fourth club is in process.
Alignment Considerations

- At least three areas per division
- No fewer than four clubs and no more than six per area
- Geography
- Ability to participate in the Distinguished programs
- Possible growth and possible loss of clubs in those areas and divisions
- Changes anticipated by current district leaders
- Strategy focused on the benefits for all

The district alignment committee considers several factors when recommending alignment changes. Clubs are typically assigned to an area based on geographic proximity to other clubs, the availability of an area director to effectively provide service, club size and strength, prospective clubs and expected growth and the likelihood of eligibility in Distinguished programs. Advanced clubs may not be segregated into areas. It is recommended that areas not be segregated by language. Clubs that charter after the alignment is approved by the district council must be placed into existing areas.

Alignment plans that do not meet policy requirements cannot be accepted. The district alignment committee must ensure that the proposal meets these requirements before bringing it forward. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 7.0: District Structure, 1. Club Assignments.

Communicate the approved alignment with clubs, areas and divisions. Provide the final alignment to World Headquarters as soon as possible, and no later than July 15. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 3. District Reserve Account, B, I.

DIVISIONS

The formation of divisions is optional. If divisions are part of the district structure, single letters must designate them. For example, divisions may be assigned the letters N, S and C for Northern, Southern and Central. The same letter cannot designate more than one division in a district.

Divisions must have at least three areas.

Each division has a director, responsible for supervising activities within the division. The division director, who is elected, works under the supervision of the district director.

Division Purpose

- Provide district support and resources to clubs and members through area directors
- Aid in administration
- Assist in the presentation of speech contests
- Assist with training area and club leaders
- Help clubs and areas achieve Distinguished goals

DISTRICT REFORMATION OR CONSOLIDATION

All districts, divisions and areas of Toastmasters International should provide the highest potential for continued club and membership growth. Thus, new districts should be created and existing districts consolidated or reformed only after the Board of Directors has determined that there are enough existing clubs in the territory to be included within the proposed new or consolidated districts. These clubs also must be of sufficient membership strength to ensure efficient and financially sound administration of such proposed districts. Once formed, a district should continue to operate as a district only so long as it meets certain minimum standards.
Division council members are the division director, assistant division director program quality, assistant division director club growth and area directors within the division. The division council manages division activities; facilitates the achievement of club, area, division and district goals; and helps with administrative activities, such as division contests, meetings and training.

The division council meets at least twice each year. Meetings are conducted in-person when practical. The division director notifies attendees at least four weeks before each meeting.

Areas

Clubs are assigned to areas (four to six clubs per area) by the district alignment committee and approved by the district council. Area assignments for new clubs are reported in writing to World Headquarters at the time the club receives its charter. These assignments must be confirmed by the district director.

Area Purpose

- Ensure each club fulfills its responsibilities to its members and becomes a Distinguished club.
- Promote and extend the benefits of membership in Toastmasters clubs.
- Help in the organization of new clubs.
- Facilitate the training of club leaders.
- Encourage clubs to undertake efforts that create greater community awareness of Toastmasters and make Toastmasters available to more people.
- Oversee and conduct quality speech contests in the district.

Area Councils

Area council members include the area director, assistant area director program quality, assistant area director club growth, area secretary, club presidents, club vice presidents education and club vice presidents membership.

The area council manages area activities and supports each club in the area in fulfilling the club mission.

The area council meets at least twice each year. Meetings are conducted in-person when practical. The area director notifies attendees at least four weeks before each meeting.

Clubs

At the center of Toastmasters is the club. The mission of the club is to provide a supportive and positive learning experience in which members are empowered to develop communication and leadership skills, resulting in greater self-confidence and personal growth.
All existing clubs that meet within the boundaries of a district, and all new clubs formed within those boundaries are assigned to that district. Assignment of a new club to an area is made by the district director, subject to approval by the district executive committee.

The district’s role is to help clubs achieve their mission. The district must take the initiative in acquainting the clubs with the activities, services and assistance offered by the district and by Toastmasters International.

CLUB LEADER INSTALLATION

One district function is to install leaders of Toastmasters clubs when invited to do so. The area director is the district team member best suited to handle this important opportunity, although a division director or a past president of the club can do it. In a company or government club, a key executive or public figure, such as the corporation president or military officer, may be willing to perform the ceremony.

GAVEL CLUBS

Gavel clubs, which operate as special groups affiliated with Toastmasters International, are formed as a result of individuals’ inability to comply with eligibility requirements. See the bylaws within the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of Toastmasters International, Article I: Purpose, Section 2, (f), and Article III: Membership, Section 1.

The gavel club program is administered by World Headquarters, which provides materials, methods and services to gavel clubs. Gavel clubs are not affiliated with any Toastmasters club or district. However, members, clubs and districts may have working relationships with gavel clubs or lend them support. See Policies and Protocol, Policy 5.1: Gavel Clubs.

As area director, you follow up on items identified during previous contact with club presidents.

Area Council
The area director is the area council chair and holds at least two area council meetings each year.

At area council meetings, the area director discusses each club’s plans and goals in the Distinguished Club Program and reviews attendance at club leader training.

For a full list of area director competencies, visit www.toastmasters.org/districtleadercompetencies.
Area Director's Club Visits
Make at least two club visits per club per year:
Assess club membership and its leadership's willingness to grow.
Determine who fulfills education achievements and when these are completed.
Submit the Area Director's Club Visit Report online.

Area Progress
The area director participates in area director training provided by the district.
The area director reports regularly to the division director and district leaders on area progress.
If the number of clubs in the area falls to fewer than four or grows beyond six, the area director contacts district leaders immediately.

Distinguished Programs
It is the area director's responsibility to motivate and assist each club in the area to become Distinguished.

Area Speech Contests
As area director, you are responsible for coordinating area speech contests. You may ask the division director for assistance in planning these events.

ADDITIONAL LEADERSHIP ROLES

Your district may have leadership roles in addition to those outlined on the previous pages. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article VII: Officers, (a) District Officers. Although fulfilling one of these roles does not allow a member to earn credit toward an education award and may not be logged in the member record, Toastmasters who accept these roles gain valuable experience.

The following includes notable leadership roles. Other leadership roles, such as committee chairs, are addressed in applicable sections of this handbook.

Immediate Past District Governor

The immediate past district governor provides counsel and guidance to district leaders and plans, directs and organizes projects and committees as requested by the district director. One of the major responsibilities of this role is to ensure the incoming district director receives all pertinent district documents prior to June 30. Other responsibilities include serving as a member of the district executive committee and district council, upholding the bylaws and policies of Toastmasters International, encouraging dedicated members to accept leadership positions and helping the district achieve Distinguished recognition.

Logistics Manager

The logistics manager selects meeting locations and organizes the room, ensuring the atmosphere is conducive to successful events, such as business meetings, speech contests and training. The logistics manager sets up necessary equipment, assists district leaders with meeting arrangements, distributes program materials, keeps track of district property and addresses disruptions during events. Proven abilities in organization and diplomacy are a must for this role.

Webmaster

The webmaster assists the district director and club growth director with updates to the district website. Although the district director is the publisher of the district website and ultimately responsible for its content, the webmaster plays an important role in maintaining the website. This involves posting district announcements, removing outdated content and troubleshooting functionality issues. Members who typically excel in this role are Internet savvy and creative.

Parliamentarian

The parliamentarian assists the district director with planning and conducting district meetings. Working with Toastmasters International, the responsibilities of the parliamentarian include interpreting Toastmasters bylaws and policies, reviewing district operating procedures as requested by the district director, and ensuring all meetings follow proper protocol. The parliamentarian is an invaluable resource for the district director, offering help, guidance and support during meetings and answering any questions the district director has related to rules and procedures. Members who assume this role must have a thorough understanding of Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised.
The region advisor is responsible for supporting, coaching and mentoring district leaders in their efforts to fulfill the district mission. Their objective is to support district leaders’ efforts to build new clubs and support all clubs in achieving excellence. In doing so, a greater number of people are afforded the opportunity to benefit from the Toastmasters education program.

The region advisor role is a region-level leader and not a district-level leadership position. The region advisor coaches districts to success, helps district directors, program quality directors, and club growth directors develop as leaders and creates a leadership succession plan. The region advisor provides marketing support to district leaders and helps identify strategies that enable districts to extend the network of clubs and enhance club performance.

Every region is assigned one region advisor.

REGION ADVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Marketing Objectives

The region advisor assists district leadership teams in the interpretation and planning of marketing objectives through district performance reports and the District Success Plan. This also includes aiding districts’ club-building efforts, such as training in how to conduct corporate visits.

As region advisor, you must have a thorough understanding of club coach-, sponsor- and mentor-training materials in order to support districts in the development and training of these positions.

Operations

As region advisor, you support your districts in issues related to district operations.

You work in partnership with district leaders to identify strengths and weaknesses.

District Leader Training

Region advisors conduct district leader training sessions at the International Convention and Mid-year Training.

DISTRICT RECOGNITION

Each program year, Toastmasters International recognizes districts, divisions, areas and clubs in the achievement of Distinguished program goals. One of your duties as a district leader is to promote these programs. Earning recognition is based on performance, not on district size. There is no limit to the number of areas, divisions and districts that can achieve Distinguished, Select Distinguished and President’s Distinguished recognition.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Protocol 3.0: Ethics and Conduct, 4. Recognition Program Violations, C
Districts shall not create, administer, or promote any other recognition programs which compete with official Toastmasters International recognition programs.

DISTINGUISHED DISTRICT PROGRAM
The Distinguished District Program focuses on club quality and member satisfaction and recognizes districts that meet goals in growth and educational achievement through the support of their clubs. It is also a management tool to focus districts on increasing membership, forming new clubs and ensuring clubs are meeting the needs of their members. Learn more about the Distinguished District Program and the recognition requirements for areas, divisions and districts in the Toastmasters International District Recognition Program (Item 1490).

Qualifying Requirements
A qualifying requirement is a prerequisite or prior condition for participation in the program. If a qualifying requirement is not met, Distinguished recognition may not be received.

To be considered for recognition, districts must meet two qualifying requirements:

1. They must submit the Division and Area Directors Training Report to World Headquarters by September 30 showing that 85 percent of division and area directors were trained.
2. They must submit the District Success Plan to World Headquarters by September 30.

THE DISTRICT SUCCESS PLAN
The District Success Plan is an extensive planning tool that the district leadership team completes at the beginning of each program year. The plan helps the district to evaluate current situations, establish specific goals and develop strategies that can be used to achieve success in the Distinguished District Program. The plan must be submitted to World Headquarters by September 30.

DIVISION AND AREA DIRECTORS TRAINING REPORT
It is the responsibility of the district to see that area directors and division directors are given the appropriate training to make it possible for them to fulfill their duties to the clubs in the most effective manner possible. The program quality director completes the Division and Area Directors Training Report detailing the area and division directors trained. Conduct the training programs as early as possible in the Toastmasters year, but no later than September 30.
Districts that fulfill the qualifying requirements on the previous page and do the following are eligible for recognition at year-end:

DISTRICT EXCELLENCE AWARDS

The program quality directors of districts that meet Distinguished goals in training and number of Distinguished clubs receive the Excellence in Education and Training Award.

The club growth directors of districts that meet Distinguished goals in club and membership growth, receive the Excellence in Marketing Award.

Districts that are Distinguished for three or more consecutive years are recognized with an Excellence in Leadership Award.

All of these awards are presented to recipients at the Toastmasters International Convention.

DISTINGUISHED DIVISION PROGRAM

The Distinguished Division Program recognizes divisions that plan, set goals and achieve success. The program builds on club success and complements the goals that districts set to earn Distinguished recognition. Divisions may receive Distinguished, Select Distinguished or President’s Distinguished recognition by meeting the goals outlined below. Division goals are established based on the number of clubs and areas in a division.

Qualifying Requirements

Divisions with at least three areas are automatically contenders for Distinguished recognition.

To be considered for recognition, divisions must meet one qualifying requirement:

1. Divisions must have no net club loss.

DISTINGUISHED AREA PROGRAM

The Distinguished Area Program recognizes areas that plan, set goals and achieve success. The program builds on club success and complements the goals that divisions and districts set to earn Distinguished recognition. Areas may receive Distinguished, Select Distinguished or President’s Distinguished recognition by meeting specific goals. All goals are calculated using an area’s club base.
Qualifying Requirements

Areas with a club base of at least three are automatically contenders for Distinguished recognition. Keep in mind that an area’s club base increases if April membership dues are paid after July 1.

To be considered for recognition, areas must meet two qualifying requirements:

1. Areas must have no net club loss.
2. Areas must submit the Area Director’s Club Visit Report (Item 1471) for 75 percent of its club base for first-round visits by November 30 and for 75 percent of its club base for second-round visits by May 31.

DISTINGUISHED CLUB PROGRAM

The Distinguished Club Program consists of 10 goals for clubs to achieve during the program year. Toastmasters International tracks clubs’ progress toward these goals throughout the year.

At year-end, Toastmasters International calculates the number of goals the clubs achieved and recognizes them as Distinguished clubs, Select Distinguished clubs or President’s Distinguished clubs based on the goals achieved and the number of members they have.

Qualifying Requirements

To be considered for recognition, clubs must either have 20 members or a net growth of at least five new members as of June 30. Transfer members do not count toward this total until their membership has been paid and is current in their new club.
Following are the goals that clubs should strive to achieve during the year:

RECOGNITION OUTSIDE THE DISTINGUISHED PROGRAMS

Districts may choose to recognize district leaders for Toastmasters accomplishments outside of the Distinguished program. However, because recognition programs that conflict with Toastmasters’ recognition programs are not permitted, districts are discouraged from creating their own programs.

Recognition Resources

Awards and recognition  www.toastmasters.org/awards
Other recognition forms and requirements  www.toastmasters.org/localrecognition

DISTRICT OUTSTANDING TOASTMASTER OF THE YEAR

This recognition is typically awarded to a Toastmaster who is not a district leader, but who makes a significant contribution to the goals and mission of the district.

DIVISION DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR

The Division Director of the Year award is granted to the division director with the most outstanding performance in membership building and retention, club extension, education and training, leadership and other areas critical to district success.

AREA DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR

The Area Director of the Year award is granted to the area director who makes the most outstanding contributions to district goal achievement.
LEADERSHIP TRAINING

Providing effective training and leadership opportunities for club and district leaders is one of the district’s primary responsibilities. Without properly trained leaders, clubs and districts cannot effectively meet members’ needs or introduce the benefits of Toastmasters to others. Use all district meetings and events as training opportunities.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Protocol 7.1: District Events, 3. Club Leader Training, E–F
E. Districts only conduct training sessions focused on the training of club or district leaders and the achievement of the club or district mission.
F. Districts do not compete with for-profit enterprises that deliver training programs. District-sponsored training is available only to members and their guests. These events are not open to the general public nor used as fundraising events.

Training for the district director, program quality director and club growth director is not the responsibility of the district; these leaders are trained by World Headquarters staff and the region advisors at the International Convention and at Mid-year Training.

Include training for all district leaders in the district’s training schedule. As part of district and club leader training, districts may include educational sessions on communication and leadership for all members. However, district funds may not be used to subsidize separate sessions for non-officers. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 7.1: District Events, 3. Club Leader Training, C.

COLLABORATION
At the initial district leader training in June, both the incoming program quality director and the outgoing lieutenant governor education and training are present. The event should be a collaboration between the two leaders. The incoming leader focuses on learning from the outgoing leader. This is a good opportunity for the incoming and outgoing district teams to work together to ensure a smooth transition. The outgoing leader leads the event, while the incoming program quality director can build rapport with the incoming team.

PROGRAM QUALITY COMMITTEE
The district may have a program quality committee to help it achieve its education and training goals. This group works with the program quality director. It helps to train district and club leaders and to achieve the district’s goals for Distinguished clubs.
Training Program Goals

- Apply the concepts of effective leadership.
- Give participants a practical understanding of their roles and responsibilities as district or club leaders.
- Provide the tools to achieve Distinguished club, Distinguished area, Distinguished division and Distinguished district status.
- Encourage planning, growth and member and club retention.
- Motivate participants to function together as a team.
- Encourage participants to read, review, and use the handbooks, manuals and other materials important to achieving success as a district or club leader.
- Answer questions and stimulate discussion.
- Give leaders a firm foundation for their term of office.

RECOGNITION

Your district is encouraged to recognize individuals for participation in or completion of training. However, your district may not create any education awards, including degrees or diplomas, nor may it create awards or programs that certify individuals.

PREPARATION

PROGRAMS

Use Toastmasters International training programs. Determine the needs of your training participants based on district recognition goals. Then analyze your district’s past performance, strengths and weaknesses. Develop a training program outline that incorporates the materials available on the Toastmasters International website at www.toastmasters.org/districttraining.

PRESENTERS AND SESSION LEADERS

Select presenters carefully. Choose the best possible trainers, educators and motivators in the district. Notify presenters well in advance of the training sessions and involve them in the planning process. Keep presenters current on progress and provide them with materials ahead of time.

Prepare session leaders. Being a good session leader requires the same dedication that it takes to give a good speech. Experienced district leaders make some of the best trainers. Mastery of the session content is important for establishing credibility and making the learning experience relevant to participants. Seasoned Toastmasters are some of the most knowledgeable educators when it comes to leadership training. Look for highly motivated people interested in training.

Ask session leaders to review From Speaker to Trainer (Item 257). It is an excellent resource for presenters at leader training sessions. Use it during the preparation of all district training events.

TRAINING TIPS

- Select presenters carefully
- Use Toastmasters training programs
- Keep training sessions focused
- Begin and end on time
- Make appropriate physical arrangements
- Promote
- Prepare session leaders
- Get feedback

CHARACTERISTICS OF SESSION LEADERS

- Knowledge of the subject
- Knowledge of teaching
- Desire and interest in training
SESSIONS
Keep training sessions focused, but have some flexibility in order to meet the needs of each particular group of trainees.

Pay close attention to the training session schedule, and follow it so training starts and ends on time. When planning, allow time for discussion of important topics and exercises that allow participants to practice new skills. Leave enough time to address questions.

Training does not end when the session ends. Encourage participants to contact session leaders or district leaders if issues arise that cannot be adequately addressed during a training session. Urge participants to review appropriate handbooks and materials. The answers to most questions can be found in these valuable resources.

ARRANGEMENTS
Make adequate arrangements. Select a date that does not conflict with important local events or holidays. Select and secure a location that provides a suitable training environment and appropriate accommodations for members with disabilities. Allow adequate time to complete your training agenda.

PROMOTION
Promote, promote, promote! Promote early and often. Market club leader and district leader training to encourage maximum attendance and participation at these sessions. Use all available media (website, newsletter, fliers, telephone calls, etc.) to invite and urge leaders to attend training sessions. Emphasize the benefits of the training session for the individual. Such benefits include leadership development, skill building and personal growth.

FEEDBACK
Get feedback. Feedback is critical to the success of trainees and the success of future training sessions. During each session, ask for feedback from participants to find out if they understand the material and if it is relevant to them.

Provide follow-up support during the year. Hold formal or informal review sessions at district conferences, executive committee meetings, division council meetings, area council meetings and other events.

TRAINING DIVISION AND AREA DIRECTORS
Hold initial division director and area director training before the district year begins, as soon as division and area directors are elected or appointed to office. If this is not possible, hold initial training early in the district year, but no later than September 30.

Initial area director and division director training must be a minimum of four hours. Train the directors together in a central location. Geographically large districts may train area directors by division or group divisions together. One-to-one training should rarely occur.

As part of the Distinguished District Program, at least 85 percent of the district’s area and division directors must be trained, and a Division and Area Directors Training Report, available on District Central, must be submitted to World Headquarters by September 30.
TRAINING CLUB LEADERS

One of the area director’s responsibilities is to ensure club leaders in the area have access to training sessions conducted by the district that equip them to succeed during their terms of office. Club leaders are elected either annually or semiannually. Schedule club leadership training to accommodate these election schedules.

Districts train club leaders twice yearly: in June, July and August and in December, January and February. For clubs that elect annually, the second training gives club leaders the opportunity to discuss problems and get advice from district leaders. It is also a chance to network with leaders of other clubs. For clubs electing semiannually, this training allows new leaders to learn their roles and responsibilities and meet district leaders. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 7:1: District Events, 3. Club Leader Training, A.

The way the training program is organized and administered varies from district to district. With your district leaders, determine what plans have been made for club officer training. In some districts it is conducted on a division level, coordinated by the division director and assisted by the area directors of that division. In other districts, the entire program is the responsibility of the area director. Whichever the case, encourage club leader participation in these programs.

Club leaders must be trained by authorized district representatives in a live training session. While audiovisual aids may be used to enhance training, they may not be the sole method of training. For example, club leaders who simply view a video that describes their responsibilities are not considered trained, even if a district leader provides the video.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 7:1: District Events, 3. Club Leader Training, B

The Toastmasters Leadership Institute is the recommended method of club officer training. If the district chooses this format, it must conform to the guidelines published by Toastmasters International. The terms “university” and “college” shall not be used.

It is the responsibility of the district leaders to report, using the online system, which club leaders attend training to ensure that the club receives Distinguished club credit.

In order for clubs to receive credit, districts must record the training information online at the Toastmasters website by November 30 for the June through August training period and by May 31 for the December through February training period. Corrections and deletions may be made by email to membership@toastmasters.org by these deadlines.

TOASTMASTERS EDUCATION PROGRAM

As program quality director, one of your primary concerns is to maintain the integrity of the Toastmasters education program in all clubs in the district. In order to do this, you must gain expertise in all aspects of the program, and thoroughly understand how all components of the program work together to help members develop their communication and leadership skills in a friendly environment.

MANUAL SPEECHES

All speeches that members present in their clubs should be from the projects in the Toastmasters educational manuals. Because each speech project builds on the skills used in previous projects, it is recommended that members complete projects in consecutive order.

SPECIAL MEETINGS FOR PREPARED SPEECHES

To allow the most speaking opportunities for members, clubs should meet weekly. If a club has a large number of members and has difficulty accommodating all those who want to speak at meetings, the club may occasionally conduct a special meeting devoted solely to manual speeches. These meetings are often called “speakathons,” “speech marathons” or “speakouts.” The only reason such meetings may be held is to help individual members improve speaking skills, and they may be organized only by a club. Districts, including areas and divisions, may not organize this type of meeting for clubs and clubs may not invite members from other clubs to participate in these meetings. Direct questions to educationawards@toastmasters.org or 949-858-8255, extension 403.

MEETING ROLES

As described in Competent Leadership (Item 265), participation in club meeting roles helps members develop their leadership skills while simultaneously conducting regular club business. Encourage members to bring Competent Leadership to all club meetings so they can receive credit toward their Competent Leader award each time they participate in a meeting role.

CLUB LEADERSHIP

Encourage members to become club leaders. Serving as a club leader offers practical experience in planning, training, motivating and managing that is relevant both personally and professionally.

REQUIREMENTS OF SPECIAL MEETINGS FOR PREPARED SPEECHES

• Each speech is carefully prepared to allow the speaker to focus on the objective of the project
• All speeches are evaluated both in writing and verbally
• Each Toastmaster is limited to one speech at any meeting for credit toward any Competent Communicator or Advanced Communicator award
FINANCIAL STRUCTURE AND PROCESS

All district funds, regardless of their source, are Toastmasters International funds. These funds are to be used to carry out the mission of Toastmasters International and the mission of the district. Districts must use these funds to benefit the Toastmasters members within the district, and promote education, growth and development of membership and new clubs.

BYLAWS OF TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL
Article XII: Districts, Section 2: How Financed
District expenses shall be paid, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, out of Toastmasters International funds authorized by the Board for district activities and operations in accordance with district expense policies and procedures adopted by the Board. No district, area, or division officer shall receive a salary or other compensation, but may receive reimbursement for travel and other expenses incurred on behalf of Toastmasters International, as set forth in the district expense policies and procedures.

FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITY

As the district director, you have fiduciary responsibility and are directly responsible for ensuring that the district is appropriately managing the funds that support its mission. The finance manager supports you in this endeavor by providing monthly profit and loss statements and a variety of other resources to help you understand and control how the district funds are being used. It is important that the district director, program quality director, club growth director and finance manager work together on finance and budgeting within the district.

Toastmasters Policies and Protocol regulate standards at all levels of the organization. Legal ramifications result if fraudulent, deceptive and falsifying activity transpires regarding financial management.

REVENUE

Districts receive 25 percent of every membership dues dollar World Headquarters receives from clubs within the district.

The district receives a monthly statement detailing the 25 percent allotment and any disbursements for orders and funds requisitioned. The district director and finance manager can requisition these funds throughout the year, provided the district first meets certain reporting requirements.
FUNDRAISING

Fundraising is a source of revenue districts can use to offset costs for educational sessions and to further the purpose of Toastmasters International. Revenue derived from fundraising can be used for the training of club and district leaders, for seminars or clinics connected with the Toastmasters education program, for the purchase of supplies and education program materials and to offset the cost of speakers at major events.

Fundraising Activities

Toastmasters International is an educational organization and not a service club whose main focus is to raise funds for community or charitable causes. It is important that fundraising activities be conducted according to policies and protocol and not occur on a continuing basis. To do so would jeopardize the organization’s tax status. This could lead to a substantial increase in membership dues. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.2: Fundraising, 1–2.

This fund was established to accept contributions from both Toastmasters and non-Toastmasters. The funds are used solely for educational purposes. Contributions are tax-deductible, financially beneficial and provide a vehicle for planned giving.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Policy 8.5: Smedley Fund, 1
The Ralph C. Smedley Memorial Fund (Smedley Fund), which is a part of Toastmasters International, is the sole repository for charitable contributions to the organization. No other foundations or funds are permitted.

BUDGETING

The funds allotted to your district must be used for the benefit of the district and its mission. To ensure district funds are used appropriately, district leaders prepare a budget at the beginning of the year that describes how funds are allocated. The budget includes estimates of the income available and the expected expenditures for the district year.

The tools necessary to complete the district budget are in the District Finance section of the website. Estimate your district’s non-membership revenue for the year. Toastmasters International will provide your district with its estimated membership revenue. Take into consideration all district events expected to generate funds. Keep estimates realistic and conservative.

Districts often budget for the same activities that were funded the previous year. This is not always wise. Review your district’s priorities every year. Keep the focus on funding activities that help the district become Distinguished.

A THREE-STEP PROCESS

1. Calculate non-membership revenue for the upcoming year
2. Set funding priorities based upon district goals
3. Allocate funds according to priorities

DISTRICT FINANCE SECTION OF THE WEBSITE

The District Finance section of the Toastmasters International website guides the district step by step in creating the district budget. All the necessary forms and spreadsheets are located on the District Finance section pages.
Once your goals and priorities are defined, put district financial resources behind those priorities. Refrain from allocating a lump sum of money to divisions, areas and so on. Financially support specific activities that result in membership growth and retention, new clubs and education achievements. Remember that division and area accounts are district accounts. As such, they must be reviewed by the district and included in detail on the profit and loss statements.

To guide your district as it prepares a budget, the Toastmasters International Board of Directors prepared the following prioritized list of items for which district funds may be used:

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 1. District Funds, A

In order of priority, district funds are used for district and club leader training, club growth and retention, supporting clubs in their membership growth efforts, the promotion of Toastmasters International educational programs within clubs, district communications, administrative materials, awards and recognition items, district leader travel, district meetings, and speech contests conducted by the district.

When preparing a budget and allocating funds, treat the first item on this list as the most important compared to the others. Then, consider the second item on the list for funding before the remaining items and so on. This does not mean that items at the beginning of the list should receive more funds than items at the end of the list. Instead, strive to provide sufficient funds for higher-priority items. If financial resources are limited, give items at the beginning of the list top priority for full funding compared to the remaining items. For example, your district may not need to spend as much money on training as on district communications. However, if you must cut expenditures due to limited funding, then it is appropriate to fund training fully and decrease the amount spent on district newsletters and other items of lower priority.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 5. District Budget, G

District budget expenses shall be limited as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CATEGORY</th>
<th>LIMIT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Marketing</td>
<td>no budget limit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communication and public relations</td>
<td>maximum 25 percent of total budget</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*This category should break even.

Fundraising revenue should exceed expenses.

Districts may request a one-year increase in the maximum limit for travel. The Executive Director will only approve the request if it is determined that the increase is the best solution to support the district mission.
The sum total of all categories cannot exceed 100 percent. The district must determine appropriate percentages for each category.

As you prepare the budget, remember that district funds may never be used for the payment of charter fees or membership dues.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Policy 8.0: Dues and Fees, 9
Club charter fees and membership dues and fees are paid by that club or an appropriate sponsoring agency, company, or group and not from district funds, or a district leader’s personal funds, except when that district leader is also a president, vice-president, or treasurer of that club. Club charter fees may be paid by another club, however membership dues and fees may not.

BUDGET APPROVAL PROCESS

The budget must be approved by Toastmasters International and subsequently by the district council during the first district council meeting; all districts must schedule their meeting between October and November of the program year.

The district executive committee reviews the budget to ensure that it meets the requirements described previously. Once the committee is confident that the budget meets policy, it sends the budget to Toastmasters International by September 30.

Be sure to submit the budget on the form provided by Toastmasters International. A complete budget includes narratives and appropriate signatures.

Toastmasters International reviews the budget to make sure it conforms to policy. If the budget is not in compliance, Toastmasters International contacts the district with instructions to modify it.

The council members then vote to approve the budget during the district council meeting. If the council does not approve the budget, the district executive committee reconvenes to change it. If the changes are minor, the chair of the district council may poll the district executive committee during the meeting to see if the committee could quickly revise the budget before the council adjourns. If the changes are not minor or the district executive committee does not agree to them, the district executive committee must meet again later to work out an acceptable budget.

The committee then presents this second, amended budget to the district council, which votes on it by email. Budget amendments must be sent to World Headquarters within 30 days after the council approves them, but no later than December 1.

The budget is an estimate, and occasionally the district may find that it did not allocate enough funds for a particular category, or allocated too much. Once approved by the district council, budgets cannot be changed, but the district can explain reasonable budget variances in its reports to the council via narratives.

USING THE DISTRICT BUDGET

DISTRICT FINANCIAL CONTROLS
Because district funds (including area, division and conference funds) are Toastmasters International funds, your district must apply financial controls to ensure proper stewardship of these funds. For example, the estimated district budget must be signed by the district director, program quality director, club growth director and finance manager. District checks must be signed by the district director and finance manager. Checks made payable to the district director or finance manager must be signed or approved in advance in writing by the program quality director or club growth director. Alternate signers are permissible only if approved by the Toastmasters International Executive Committee. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 4. Financial Controls, A–B.

Approvals
All expense reimbursement claims must be approved by the district director or, in the case that the claim is the district director’s, approval must come from a the program quality director or club growth director. Any expenditure greater than $500 must be authorized in advance and in writing by the district director and either the program quality director or club growth director, in consultation with the finance manager.

Receipts
Itemized point-of-sale receipts are required for all reimbursements. Credit card statements and bank statements are not receipts. When no receipt is available, a detailed explanation of the expenditure is required to be considered for reimbursement. Mileage reimbursements require supporting documents consisting of the travel date, distance and travel purpose. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 4. Financial Controls, H.

Compensation
District leaders may not receive a salary or any other compensation. Expenses incurred for the benefit of the organization may be reimbursed only to the extent provided for in the district budget. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article VII: Officers, (h) Compensation.

Other District Expenses
At times, districts may incur non-routine expenses that must be appropriately managed to protect Toastmasters International’s tax-exempt status. As such, expenses for personal gifts must never be lavish or excessive and must relate to activities that directly support the organization’s mission. Examples of acceptable personal gifts include thank-you cards, Toastmasters gift certificates and Toastmasters products. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 8.
Profit and Loss Statements
Finance managers provide monthly reports showing variances with explanations to the district director, program quality director and club growth director within 30 days of the end of the month. The profit and loss statements also must be provided at each district executive committee and district council meeting. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 4. Financial Controls, C–D.

Bank Signatories
The district director, either the program quality director or club growth director, and finance manager may jointly establish district bank accounts and shall have signatory authority on all accounts established by the district and those established on behalf of the district by Toastmasters International, including any division, area and conference accounts. Alternate signers are permissible only if approved by the Toastmasters International Executive Committee. See Policies and Protocol, Policy 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 3.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Policy 11.4: Board of Directors Committees, 1. Executive Committee, G
All signatories on Toastmasters International’s corporate bank accounts, including those located in the various districts, must be approved by the Executive Committee.

I. At an Executive Committee meeting, or by unanimous written consent, the committee reviews and approves a list showing, for each account, the district involved, the name and location of the financial institution, and the names of the persons to be added or removed as signatories since the prior committee meeting.

II. If necessary, the International President approves the addition or removal of bank signatories between Executive Committee meetings, subject to ratification by the committee at its subsequent meeting.

III. Replacement of a previously approved signatory is not effective until the replacement is approved by the International President, whose approval is subject to ratification by the Executive Committee.

ACCOUNT STATEMENTS FROM WORLD HEADQUARTERS
Each month World Headquarters sends the finance manager and district director a District Reserve Account statement showing available funds held by Toastmasters International for the district’s use.

REQUISITIONING FUNDS
Your district may withdraw funds and place district orders from its reserve account throughout the year provided the district is in good standing with the reporting requirements.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 3. District Reserve Account, B

District reserve accounts are only available for funds requisitions or supply orders when the following requirements have been fulfilled:

I. A list of all elected and appointed district leaders, the district signature form for withdrawal of district funds, a bank-provided list of authorized signers for all district accounts, a calendar of district events for the year, and changes in club assignments to areas and divisions are received at World Headquarters by July 15.

II. The year-end audit for the preceding district year and financial records for January 1 through June 30 are received at World Headquarters by August 31.

III. The district budget is received at World Headquarters by September 30.

IV. The Profit and Loss Statement for the period of July 1 through September 30 is received at World Headquarters by October 31.

V. The mid-year audit and financial records for the period of July 1 through December 31 are received at World Headquarters by February 15.

VI. The Profit and Loss Statement for the period of July 1 through March 31 is received at World Headquarters by April 30.

VII. A list of assets must be signed by the immediate past and current district directors and submitted to World Headquarters by August 31 of each year.

VIII. Accounting reconciliations must be completed in the online district accounting system within 30 days of each month end.

Withdrawals from the district reserve must be made on the standard requisition form available in the District Finance section of the Toastmasters website. Both the district director and finance manager must sign the form. Toastmasters International cannot honor district requisitions for amounts that exceed the total in the reserve account.
Submit requisitions at 30- to 60-day intervals to cover expenses incurred or estimated needs for the near future, and allow three to five business days for processing. Checks are made payable to the district and sent to the district director. Toastmasters International can send funds via wire transfer upon request. There is a $25 charge for this service.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Protocol 8.4: District Fiscal Management, 3. District Reserve Account, A

During the final months of the program year, the district reserve account balance shall remain equal to or greater than 25% of that district’s membership-dues income for the prior year.

Maintaining at least 25 percent of the district’s membership dues income toward the end of the year ensures the incoming team has funds necessary to carry out its duties. Toastmasters International limits withdrawals as year-end approaches, so that on June 30 this amount is in the District Reserve Account.

Charging Purchases to the District Account
The district director must approve all orders for supplies and materials to be charged to the District Reserve Account. The district director may place orders through District Central on the Toastmasters website. Orders submitted without the district director’s written approval and telephone orders from other district leaders cannot be charged to the district account. Also, if district reporting requirements are not met, district orders will not be processed.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST
Occasionally, a district may encounter a conflict of interest. For instance, the district may consider obtaining goods or services from a district leader or from a company with which the district leader or district leader’s relative is affiliated. Sometimes this can be beneficial to the district; in other cases, the transaction can appear improper.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Policy 7.2: District Management, 2. District Conflict of Interest, C–J

C. A potential conflict of interest occurs if a district contemplates a material financial transaction between the district and a district officer, or between the district and a person or company with which a district officer is affiliated.

I. A material financial transaction is defined as a total of more than $100, or equivalent, within the district’s annual budget year.

II. A person is considered affiliated if the district officer is related to the person by blood, adoption, or marriage.

III. A company is considered affiliated if the district officer (or a relative of the district officer) is a director, officer, employee or agent of the company or owns one percent or more of the value of the company.

D. A district officer involved in such a transaction must abstain from voting or participating in any district decision regarding that transaction. Such district officer may only present the proposed transaction to the district and respond to questions.
E. The district may engage in such a transaction if each district officer involved discloses to the district executive committee, prior to the transaction, all relevant facts concerning the transaction including the district officer’s affiliation with the parties involved in the transaction.

F. The district executive committee reviews the relevant facts.

G. The transaction is approved only if a majority of the district executive committee concludes that the proposed transaction is fair and reasonable; for the purpose and benefit of the district; not for the excess benefit of the district officer involved nor for the benefit of the person or company affiliated with the district officer; and the most beneficial arrangement that the district could obtain under the circumstances with reasonable effort.

H. The district council may approve the transaction instead of the district executive committee, following the same procedure.

I. The minutes of a meeting at which such a transaction is considered records the matters discussed and the voting results.

J. Certain transactions shall not be approved, including the lending of the district’s money, the guarantee or extension of the district’s credit and funds for the personal use or benefit of the recipient.

DIVISION ACCOUNTS

If authorized by the district and included as part of the district budget and profit and loss statements, a division may be allocated funds and have its own division budget. Although a division may have its own budget, the district director must supervise the bank account activities and include them in the monthly profit and loss statements submitted to World Headquarters.

Because the funds in division bank accounts are district and Toastmasters International funds, these accounts must have the district director, finance manager and either the program quality director or club growth director as signatories. Alternate signers are allowed only if approved by the Toastmasters International Executive Committee.

All division account activities are subject to the same policies as district account activities.

TRAVEL REIMBURSEMENT

Any travel reimbursement for district leaders must be included in the district budget and approved by the district council. In the event a district leader moves out of the geographic boundaries of the district from which he or she was elected, reimbursement must be based on either the residence of the leader at the time of election or the leader’s current residence, whichever is less.

If included as part of the district budget and approved by the district council, a district may reimburse registration and lodging expenses for travel outside the district as follows:
Travel expenses may include round-trip transportation between home and the event location, registration and admission to any ticketed events that are part of the conference or convention. Lodging may include only the cost of a hotel guestroom and related taxes; it excludes personal telephone or other incidental expenses. Travel expenses also exclude car rentals and gasoline.

Districts may only own or rent assets necessary to facilitate the Toastmasters program. District assets are the property of Toastmasters International. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article III, (b).

Each district and club must maintain a written list of its assets and a written procedure to account for and smoothly transfer the assets to the next administration.

AUDITS

The district’s financial transactions are reviewed twice during the year and account for all district revenue and expenses. All district bank accounts and funds must be included in the district budget and audits, including any accounts held at the division, area and conference level. All outstanding liabilities and obligations must be recorded as part of the Mid-year and Year-end audits.

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article XI: Committees, (c) Audit Committee

Each year the district director shall appoint an audit committee consisting of at least three individual members who are not members of the district executive committee. The reports of this committee shall contain information in the format required by Toastmasters International. The committee shall submit an interim Mid-year Audit Report no later than February 15. The committee shall then complete a Year-end Audit Report for the fiscal year ending June 30. The outgoing and incoming district directors are jointly responsible for submitting this report to the member clubs and to World Headquarters by August 31.

MEMBERSHIP AND CLUB BUILDING

One of the most stimulating and rewarding ways to introduce the benefits of Toastmasters membership to others is by organizing new clubs in your district. Districts should strive to have a three- to eight-percent net increase of clubs and membership payments each year to become Distinguished or better.

The club growth director and the chair of the club growth committee coordinate club-building efforts within the district.

UNCOVERING LEADS

Look at communities within your district that are large enough to support a Toastmasters club. Find places with existing clubs that might be able to support additional clubs. For instance, if a club that meets in the evening has received several inquiries from potential members who would join a club if it met in the morning, there is an excellent possibility for a new club.

Consider major corporations or other large organizations within your area as potential club sponsors. In addition, if that corporation has other locations throughout the world with in-house Toastmasters clubs already established, you have a point for discussion. Try to secure the approval of high-level officials within the organization, such as the chief executive officer, human resources director or training manager.

World Headquarters receives inquiries regularly from individuals interested in establishing new clubs and sends information about Toastmasters to each inquirer. It also sends the district director, club growth director and club extension chair information about inquiries originating within the district.

ATTRACTING AND RETAINING MEMBERS

Attracting new members to Toastmasters and retaining existing members means that more people are learning the vital skills of speaking, listening and leadership. Your district’s role is to promote both membership and retention.

Membership-building and retention are club functions. People join clubs—they don’t join areas, divisions or districts. Districts support clubs. However, districts can provide the motivation, support, resources and public relations assistance necessary to help clubs attract and retain members.

DEMONSTRATION MEETINGS

Today’s business leaders are looking for ways to increase employee performance and bottom-line results. They need managers and leaders who demonstrate confidence, can express their ideas with conviction and can manage others with superior communication skills. In short, they need Toastmasters.

Schedule a demonstration meeting so potential members can see how Toastmasters works. Choose experienced Toastmasters to conduct the demonstration meeting. For corporate club leads, ask your corporate contact to invite all employees to attend. Your objective is to demonstrate how Toastmasters works and establish a plan.

TIPS FOR MEMBERSHIP BUILDING

- Encourage clubs to periodically conduct an organized membership campaign
- Emphasize membership growth as part of the Distinguished Club Program
- Encourage clubs to maintain a website
- Encourage clubs to keep meeting information current on the Toastmasters International website
- Foster club publicity programs for radio, television, newspapers and within organizations and corporations
- Encourage clubs to appoint a mentor for each new member
- Provide promotional material for clubs and members to use
- Promote “Bring a Guest Night” and encourage all members to bring at least one guest to a meeting
- Remind area directors to promote growth during their club visits with that company. Use this meeting to highlight the Toastmasters experience, present the Toastmasters club program, answer questions and distribute materials. Usually, meetings like this produce several potential members who decide they’d like to learn more.

THE CHARTER PROCESS

Complete the Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club during the demonstration meeting. At the end of the demonstration meeting, request the $125 charter fee and arrange for a second meeting. Send the Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club and the charter fee to World Headquarters. You are sent a Charter Kit and New Member Kits for 20 members. New members are responsible for the cost of their New Member Kits once the club is chartered.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Policy 2.0: Club and Membership Eligibility, 4. Good Standing of Clubs, E

There shall be no transfer of an issued charter from an inactive club to any other group.

BUILDING CORPORATE CLUBS

Corporate club charters are essential for the growth and health of the district. As a district leader, where do you begin? Who do you talk to? What steps do you take? To aid in the chartering process, districts can request a list of clubs within a certain organization by emailing corporaterelations@toastmasters.org.

PREPARATION

Research

Doing preliminary research helps you achieve successful corporate visits. Start by making a list of organizations in your area; then review their websites and other resources.

Ask yourself how each organization could benefit from an on-site Toastmasters program. Customize the answer based on the information you gather, explaining how Toastmasters can fill the company’s specific needs. Ask local Toastmasters if they have any contacts in the targeted companies.

Write an Introduction Email

After you’ve done the research and acquired this information, send an email introducing yourself to the contact person. In it, offer brief information about Toastmasters and advise that you will follow up with a phone call.

NEW CLUB SPONSOR

A new club sponsor guides the new group through the chartering process. Once the club is chartered, the job of the new club sponsor is complete. New club sponsors are eligible to receive club-building credit toward the Advanced Leader Silver award.
Guidelines for an Effective Introduction Email

- Explain why you would like an appointment.
- Briefly explain the benefits of this introductory meeting.
- Advise that you will communicate with your contact soon.
- Include a digital copy of Clear Communication: Your Organization Needs It (Item 103).

Schedule a Corporate Visit
Within a few days, phone the contact person to schedule a corporate visit.

Guidelines for an Effective Initial Phone Call

- Identify yourself as a Toastmasters representative.
- Mention that you recently sent a letter (no need to ask if it was received).
- Quickly explain that you would like to meet in order to introduce yourself, discuss the value of the Toastmasters program and explain how simple it is to get started.
- You may want to mention a similar local company with a successful corporate club.
- Arrange a time to meet at the organization for 20 to 30 minutes. (Ask if you should confirm the appointment with an assistant.)
- If the contact hesitates, explain that, based on the needs of the organization, there are many ways to sponsor a Toastmasters club. Sometimes it is simply to provide a room for the group to meet once a week during non-business hours. You can discuss this at the actual meeting.
- After the phone call, send an email to confirm the date and time; mention that you look forward to the meeting.

MEETING THE DECISION-MAKER
Make the most of your meeting with the potential corporate sponsor.

Guidelines for an Effective Meeting with the Decision-maker

- Prepare in advance and arrive a few minutes early.
- Take with you Competent Communication (Item 225), Competent Leadership (Item 265) and Clear Communication: Your Organization Needs It (Item 103).
- Ask questions: “What programs do you have now for communication training and leadership development?” “What are some areas you hope to improve?”
- Share examples of how Toastmasters can fulfill the organization’s needs: refining employees’ presentation skills, enhancing meeting effectiveness, improving leadership skills, promoting teamwork, developing confidence in upcoming leaders, increasing employee loyalty and reducing employee turnover.
- Refer to other companies benefiting from Toastmasters training. Reference the Features, Benefits and Value chart.
- Schedule a demonstration meeting at the location.
- Use the PowerPoint presentation found in the Logos, Images and Templates section of the Toastmasters International website.
MAINTAINING CORPORATE RELATIONS

Establishing and maintaining long-term relationships is an important part of corporate visits. Even if the company you are meeting with does not charter a new club right away, keep in touch with them to develop a long-lasting relationship. Developing relationships means letting the person know you are interested in them and their needs, not just in starting a new club for your own benefit.

Guidelines for Effectively Maintaining Corporate Relations

- If you don’t know an answer, admit it. People respect those who are willing to say, “I do not know the answer to that, but I will find out.” Then get back to the person quickly with the correct answer.
- Send a personal, hand-written thank-you note within a week of the visit.
- Keep your word. If you say you are going to do something, do it.

Since the transition of district leaders can make it difficult to maintain long-term relationships, give the incoming team a comprehensive list of contacts, including the efforts you have made so far.

QUALITY CLUB MEETINGS

Begin holding regular meetings that follow the Toastmasters club program. As members join, collect their new membership dues. As soon as a minimum of 20 members is established, at least 17 of whom are non-dual members (except in advanced clubs), adopt the Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International. Elect leaders, and apply for a charter by submitting all charter forms and the appropriate money. Most clubs are able to complete all chartering requirements within four months of submitting the Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club.
Members join Toastmasters to become more effective communicators and leaders. People stay in Toastmasters because the club meets their individual needs. A quality club environment is the single most important factor in membership retention. Quality clubs provide the greatest opportunity for each member to develop communication and leadership skills.

A high-quality club encourages and celebrates member achievement, provides a supportive and fun environment and offers a professionally organized meeting with variety. In those clubs, officers are trained in all aspects of club quality to ensure that members have access to a formal mentoring program, are provided evaluations that help them grow and are motivated to achieve their goals.

Great club meetings make successful clubs. They are essential for building and maintaining membership. The secret to successful meetings is planning. Encourage clubs to plan and conduct club meetings in which every member has a chance to learn, develop, achieve and have fun!

KEYS TO CLUB MEETING SUCCESS

- Variety
  Variety is demonstrated in different types of meetings: theme, interclub and social meetings, meetings at members’ homes and so on. The same meeting format week after week can make meetings feel like a chore. Quality clubs use variety to keep meetings fresh and interesting.

- Fun
  People join Toastmasters to “learn in moments of enjoyment,” as founder Ralph C. Smedley stated. Formal speaking courses are available in schools. Quality clubs are those that have fun meetings while achieving all the education objectives. The atmosphere is exciting, enjoyable and inviting.

- Time Limits
  When time limits are enforced, it is amazing how much a club can pack into a single meeting without going a minute over time. The best clubs start and end exactly on time and follow a strict, fast-paced schedule. This builds enthusiasm and teaches valuable meeting management skills.

- Manual Speeches
  Competent Communication (Item 225) and Competent Leadership (Item 265) are designed to provide education—the primary purpose of Toastmasters—in a logical format. Quality clubs encourage members to give speeches from the manuals and promote evaluations based on project objectives.
AREA DIRECTOR’S CLUB VISITS
The area director’s club visits are opportunities for the district to support club officers and enhance club quality. As an area director, be sure to visit each club in your area at least twice per year. First-round visits should take place between July 1 and November 30. Second-round visits should take place between January 1 and May 31. The recommendations and support you provide as an area director make a tremendous impact on the future of the clubs in your area. Your contributions empower club officers to help members learn, grow and achieve.

Preparation for Club Visits
- Review the online Distinguished Club Program report.
- Familiarize yourself with the online Area Director’s Club Visit Report (Item 1471)—it is your evaluation tool during your visit.
- Contact the club president at least one month prior to your visit.
- Request the Club Success Plan from the club president and review it prior to the visit.
- Ask the club president about the club’s historical information and demographics.
- With the club president, determine the club’s specific needs so you can customize your visit and ensure the club gets the most out of it.

Each club visit varies depending on the arrangements you make with the club president. Focus on those items that are applicable based on your agreements.

Spend time with the club leaders. Ask how communication between you and the club can improve. Discuss year-end goals and strategies to achieve them. Use the Distinguished Club Program and Club Success Plan (Item 1111) as your guide. Recommend methods for moving forward and point out opportunities for enhancement.
After Club Visits

• Submit the Area Director’s Club Visit Report (Item 1471) online through District Central. When submitted online, credit is granted instantly and a copy of the form is automatically sent by email to your district leaders and the club president. Reports are due twice a year, by November 30 and by May 31.

• Follow up with the club to learn how things have been since the visit. Ask if the club needs additional support; then provide it.

• Keep records of your club visits and pass them on to the next year’s area director. This ensures that clubs’ needs are continually met.

MINIMUM CLUB STANDARDS

The purpose of a Toastmasters club is to provide a positive environment in which members can participate in the Toastmasters education program. Active participation is necessary if members are to learn and if clubs are to fulfill their purpose. All clubs must meet the following minimum requirements:

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Policy 2.0: Club and Membership Eligibility, 2. Club Minimum Requirements
A. Meetings are held at least 12 times per year.
B. Regular meetings are conducted in-person.
C. Members work toward communication awards.
D. Members give oral manual speeches and evaluations.
E. Members have the opportunity to develop and practice leadership skills and earn leadership awards.

MEMBERSHIP-RENEWAL DUES

World Headquarters emails membership-renewal dues notifications to club leaders the first week of September and the first week of March. Clubs renew online. Area directors, follow up with each club to promote timely renewal submission. As district leaders, identify clubs having membership problems so you can offer assistance.

When membership-renewal dues are submitted on time, everyone benefits. The district receives a portion of each membership-renewal dues payment a club submits. Clubs receive credit toward one of the goals in the Distinguished Club Program. And most importantly, members continue to enjoy the benefits Toastmasters offers.
POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Policy 8.0: Dues and Fees, 9

Club charter fees and membership dues and fees are paid by that club or an appropriate sponsoring agency, company or group and not from district funds, or a district leader’s personal funds, except when that district leader is also a president, vice-president, or treasurer of that club. Club charter fees may be paid by another club, however membership dues and fees may not.

REINSTATEMENT OF CLUBS

Clubs inactive for one full membership-renewal dues period may be reinstated within the next membership-renewal dues period.

Clubs inactive for two or more full membership-renewal dues periods are required to be chartered as new clubs. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 2.0: Club and Membership Eligibility, 1. Club Reinstatement.

Reinstatement of Clubs Resource

Reinstatement questions  membership@toastmasters.org

STEPS TO REINSTATEMENT

1. Pay current membership-renewal dues for eight individual members
2. Pay any past due account balance
3. Either pay eight times the current individual semi-annual membership dues, which results in the loss of continuous membership for individuals; or pay membership dues for all club members so that membership continues from the date they originally joined the club
4. Submit a current club officer list

PUBLIC RELATIONS AND MARKETING

Building brand recognition is important for the vitality of any organization. Club and district leaders can use customizable templates in the Logos, Images and Templates section of the Toastmasters International website (www.toastmasters.org/logos) to increase brand awareness and ensure brand consistency throughout communications.

DISTRICT COMMUNICATIONS

There are a variety of ways to communicate with your members, keep them informed and help the district achieve its mission.

A district may publish its website in donated space and acknowledge the donation on the website. Districts may sell advertising space to offset the cost of renting space. Toastmasters members may not receive any compensation to create, maintain or host websites for districts, divisions, areas or clubs.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 9.0: District Campaigns and Elections, 6. District Meetings, F
Advertisements in district publications, such as in newsletters, at conference programs, or on websites, by or on behalf of candidates for district office are not permitted.

District newsletters, websites and directories must include this disclaimer: “Any member contact information in this (newsletter/website/directory) is for the sole use of Toastmasters members for Toastmasters business only. It is not to be used for solicitation and distribution of non-Toastmasters materials or information.”

DISTRICT WEBSITE

The district director is the publisher of the district website and is responsible for its content. It includes information useful to current and prospective members.

Website Material

- The district newsletter or material from it
- The district calendar
- A link to the Find a Club Near You feature on the Toastmasters International website
- Information about organizing new clubs
- Features and benefits of membership

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 4.0: Intellectual Property, 2. Websites, I
Toastmasters websites may not include copyrighted information from Toastmasters International or any other source without the express written permission of the copyright owner.

CLUB GROWTH COMMITTEE

The district’s club growth committee works with the club growth director. Typically, the committee analyzes the need, opportunity and potential for new clubs in the district and prepares an effective club-building program. It also helps ensure full membership in existing clubs and helps administer the club coach program. As part of the club growth committee, the club extension chair receives new club leads via email. Working with the club growth director, the club extension chair contacts these leads, provides assistance with demonstration meetings and the charter process.

UNACCEPTABLE MATERIAL FOR WEBSITES

- Individual member mailing addresses, email addresses and telephone numbers (even on a password-protected site)
- International leader or director candidate information (unless the candidate is from that district)
- Advertisements by or on behalf of candidates for district office

With few exceptions, only Toastmasters International may conduct and release the results of surveys of members and former members. The Chief Executive Officer may grant permission to outside entities, such as academic sources, to conduct surveys and release and use their results. Clubs may survey their own members and districts may survey their members about education programs in order to use the results within the district. TRADEMARKS AND COPYRIGHTS
Toastmasters International makes its names, emblems, insignias, marks and materials available for use throughout the organization for promotion and management purposes. However, all usage must be in full compliance with the appropriate copyright and trademark laws in order to preserve the value and unique nature of these items.

Toastmasters International’s principal asset is its reputation. Toastmasters International maintains its reputation and the distinction between itself and other communication training programs through the registrations and other measures taken to protect its collective membership marks, trade names, trademarks and service marks (including the official emblem or insignia). If Toastmasters International should fail to protect these rights, they could be lost, and Toastmasters International would no longer exist as the exemplary communication training organization it is. SPEAKERS BUREAUS
Many districts organize speakers bureaus and encourage members to participate in them. Speakers bureaus allow members to gain valuable experience in speaking to audiences outside of Toastmasters. A speakers bureau chair is responsible for selecting qualified speakers for the bureau who can positively represent the organization.

How to Start a Toastmasters Speakers Bureau (Item 127) www.toastmasters.org/127
HOSTING DISTRICT EVENTS

As a district leader, you may have the opportunity to host guests at a banquet, speech contest, or other district event. When hosting these types of events, it’s important to use proper etiquette as you welcome and introduce guests.

Plan ahead for VIP guests and assign a host to each of them. The host should be available to greet guests at the door and assist them as needed. If a meal is available at the event, VIP guests and their companions may not have to pay for it. In many cases, the district anticipates and budgets for this expense. Confirm whether VIP guests will receive complimentary meals before you host an event. Remember, it is your responsibility to ensure that all guests feel welcome and informed.

As a host, it’s important to pronounce guests’ names accurately and include their current titles as you introduce them. If any visiting dignitaries are overlooked during the introductions, acknowledge and introduce them as soon as you note their presence.

EVENT SPONSORSHIP

Districts may secure sponsorship for district events as a strategy for offsetting costs. In every case, the district director must approve the sponsorship.

District Reciprocation for Sponsorship

- Recognition in print (e.g., conference program, event program, website)
- Recognition in signage (e.g., a reception display acknowledging the sponsor of hors d’oeuvres)
- Verbal recognition (e.g., by the host at the beginning of the meeting)
- Complimentary event registration for the sponsor
- Space (e.g., a meeting room in which the sponsor can display products or services that support Toastmasters International’s mission)

ACCEPTABLE SPEAKER SPONSORSHIP

- In-kind compensation (e.g., printing)
- Money
- Products (e.g., pens, bags, notebooks)
- Services (e.g., airport shuttle)

UNACCEPTABLE SPEAKER SPONSORSHIP

- Excess funds earned by the event (e.g., registration fees) may be allocated to offset speakers’ expenses provided the budget forecasts positive results. The excess funds may be used only for travel costs associated with lodging, the lowest-rate round-trip airfare or mileage reimbursement, complimentary registration and related meals. The speaker is responsible for all other expenses.
- Districts may not pay speakers’ fees.

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A district may use money from a sponsor to offset costs associated with a speaker’s appearance.

The speaker’s presentation must directly support the Toastmasters mission and be related to the Toastmasters education program.

SPEAKER AGREEMENT

Toastmasters International requires the use of a written speaker agreement for all conference speakers. A written speaker agreement protects the organization and clearly defines the obligations of the district and the speaker.

SALE OF SPEAKERS’ PRODUCTS

Often speakers want to make their products or services available for purchase at an event.

Guidelines for Sale of Speakers’ Products

- The product must support the event’s goals and objectives, including the Toastmasters mission.
- The speaker may sell the product or service for a maximum of two hours after his or her presentation has ended provided this time does not conflict with the meeting time for the district council or business meeting. Each speaker is limited to one sales opportunity even if he or she is conducting multiple presentations.
- The district may supply the speaker with table space no larger than four feet by eight feet (1.2 meters by 2.4 meters). The table should be as close as safely possible outside the speaker’s presentation room.
- The product or service sales must be coordinated by the speaker. This includes product display, sales transactions, sales taxes and removing the products from the display area after the allotted time has ended. The speaker is also responsible for set-up, staffing, labor, and related expenses for product sales. No district leader may assist the speaker with sales. Should other individual members choose to help the speaker sell, the speaker assumes any risks for their actions; and the district bears no responsibility.
- The speaker may not promote the product or service during the presentation. However, the speaker or facilitator can make an announcement concerning product or service sales at the conclusion of the presentation, including how long the product or service will be sold at the event.
- Districts are not responsible for any defective products or services a speaker sells.
Selecting the right speakers for your district conference is one of the most important aspects of planning and selection. The keynote speaker is the most critical. If an international officer or director is scheduled to visit during your district conference, as the most esteemed guest, he or she should be offered the most prominent speaking position.

THE DISTRICT CONFERENCE

The district conference is an exciting educational and networking event for a district’s clubs.

District Conference Purposes

- District business
- Communication and leadership training opportunities in support of the district mission
- Opportunities for networking and the exchange of ideas
- Recognition and celebration of district accomplishments

PLANNING

Planning is the key to a successful district conference. Members should leave the conference feeling that they enjoyed it, learned, and benefited from it. You can make this happen with some creativity and planning. Keep sessions focused on speaking, communication, and leadership and other topics that promote club success. Select speakers who can deliver exciting and motivational sessions. Promote the education program early and often.

Schedule the conference in a place that is accessible to most members. Consider rotating the conference among accessible sites.

The district conference should be self-supporting. Promote the value of the conference and consider offering discount packages and early registration promotions. A district conference can be a great learning experience at a reasonable cost.

CHAIRS

The success of a district conference also depends on appointing the right people to fill important positions.

Suggested District Conference Chairs

- Conference committee chair (conference chair)
- Finance chair
- Education program chair
- Venue chair
- Public relations chair
PROGRAM

Under the guidance of the district director and program quality director, the conference committee chair is responsible for coordinating all aspects of the conference, including preparing the meeting agenda, selecting the venue, scheduling presenters and providing onsite assistance. This person collaborates with the finance, education, venue and public relations chairs to ensure the conference meets the district’s goals.

Communication is essential to district conference success. Members of the conference committee meet regularly, follow up with fellow committee members and venue contacts and keep the district director and program quality director informed of progress. Through clear communication and careful preparation, the committee can plan a conference that is informative, productive and entertaining for all attendees.

Make sure all sessions start and end on time. Schedule plenty of time for transitioning between sessions. Allow at least 15 minutes between major conference events, such as education sessions and luncheons.

Balance the program with speeches and audience involvement sessions to keep your meeting interesting. Remember that participation enhances learning.

FINANCING

The finance chair is responsible for all financial matters involved in presenting the conference, including registration. While all district conference expenses are considered part of the overall district budget, the district conference should not lose money. Ideally, it should make a small profit. Most conference income is generated from ticket sales for events and from a modest registration fee. Principal expenses are the cost of meals, promotional materials and programs.

The district conference is a district event. The district must maintain direct control over any event, negotiation or transaction that involves conference finances. Often, conferences are hosted by a club, area or division. However, only the district selects a venue, negotiates prices and purchases services, all subject to the approval of the district director. All expenses should be paid by the district director and finance manager.

Accurate financial planning is essential to the success of a district conference. Control expenses and keep them to a minimum so the cost to the individual Toastmasters member is reasonable.

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article IX: District Council, (b) Authority

The district council shall conduct all business of the district, shall assume responsibility for the payment, with district funds, of all debts incurred in the presentation of district council meetings and other district functions, and shall not assess or impose any financial obligation on any member club or any individual member of a club.

Venue Contracts

Often, district conferences take place in hotels, but no matter what venue your district chooses, review the venue’s contract thoroughly before you create a budget for the conference. Additional items to include when preparing a budget are penalties associated with attrition, or slippage, clauses. Sometimes fewer people attend the conference than expected, which means fewer banquet meals and rooms booked. Event sites such as hotels often charge when this occurs. For example, you may be required to pay for meeting rooms and set-up, as outlined in the contract. Budget for these potential costs as conference expenses.

Be sure to obtain a detailed schedule of charges from the event site for any miscellaneous expenses, such as microphones, audiovisual equipment, spotlights and Internet access. These costs should be considered when you determine your registration fee.

Meeting Rooms

With careful planning, you may be able to avoid meeting room charges. Depending on the volume of meals and sleeping rooms booked, many venues waive, or at least reduce, these charges.

Meals

Be sure meal ticket prices cover the entire cost of the meal, including the prevailing tax and gratuity. Then add a margin to the ticket price to cover miscellaneous expenses, such as decorations and entertainment.

EDUCATION SESSIONS

The education program chair is appointed to organize the general education sessions and training sessions, such as those for area directors, division directors and club leaders. The education program chair is responsible for the education sessions, speakers, awards, speech contests, entertainment and room set-up for all meetings. The education program chair collaborates closely with the venue chair to make sure each event runs smoothly.

One of the features that attract members to the district conference is the educational program. Depending on the size and availability of meeting space, you may wish to hold one large session or have several programs for smaller audiences running concurrently.

Session Guidelines

- Cover the many aspects of communication and leadership (e.g., speaking, listening, evaluation and motivation).
- Focus on improving and strengthening clubs (e.g., the Distinguished Club Program, membership growth, outstanding club programming, public relations, Speechcraft).
- Consult with division and area directors to find Toastmasters who are willing and available to give presentations.

Your district has many talented Toastmasters, so you should not have to hire speakers. If a non-Toastmasters speaker is desired, get one without paying a fee.
VENUE SELECTION

The venue chair is responsible for accommodations, meal arrangements, meeting rooms, equipment and displays.

The importance of planning cannot be overemphasized. Shop around for your conference hotel or meeting site. Consider two, three or more sites and advise sales representatives that you are considering other venues. Ask for a package deal taking into account guest rooms and meal prices. This means hard bargaining and negotiating on your part. However, your conference is a valuable piece of business and should be presented as such.

As you select a venue, be sure the facility provides appropriate accommodations for people with disabilities. In the United States, the Americans with Disabilities Act requires hotels to be barrier-free in all areas accessed by the public. Under the act, a person with a disability has the right to reasonable accommodations to allow him or her to participate as fully as possible at conferences or other types of events. Other countries have similar laws that protect people with disabilities. As a district leader planning an event, it is your responsibility to ensure the selected venue complies with applicable laws in your jurisdiction related to accommodations for people with disabilities. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 2.0: Club and Membership Eligibility, 2. Members with Disabilities.

Charges and Written Agreements

Beware of hidden set-up charges for meal and meeting functions. Hotels and other venues expect you to pay these if you don’t negotiate them in advance. You might be able to get discounts on food and beverages, room fees and parking. It’s often possible to arrange complimentary rooms for an attending international officer or director, region advisor and district director.

Many event sites have frequent employee turnover. Do not depend on verbal agreements with a hotel representative who may not be with the hotel when your meeting is finally held. Make certain all waivers, discounts, materials and services are written into your agreement with the venue. If you are not sure about something, ask!

Visiting the Venue

When visiting the event site before the conference, watch for sources of noise that might interfere with the speech contest, such as live music and kitchen traffic from restaurants. Be sure the hotel has not booked a party or wedding reception in an adjacent room. Double-check sleeping room blocks and meeting rooms.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The public relations chair is responsible for the promotion of conference events to Toastmasters in the district and to the public. This person works closely with the public relations manager and club growth director to ensure the conference receives exposure in district and club newsletters, websites and available media. In some instances, the public relations manager may serve as the conference public relations chair.

Keep public relations costs to a minimum by asking members and local businesses to contribute materials and services for promotional ads, items and program printing.
THE COMMUNICATION AND LEADERSHIP AWARD

One of the most effective ways to gain publicity is through the Communication and Leadership Award. This award is presented by the district to an individual in the community who is recognized in the communication or leadership fields. Honorees may include members of the media, community leaders, business professionals and entrepreneurs. Contact pr@toastmasters.org to discuss publicity opportunities for the honoree.

HOSPITALITY CENTER

Set up a hospitality center in a centrally located room where attendees can congregate when they are not attending sessions. Information about tours or other activities might be available here. You may ask a local club to assume the hospitality function as a club project. The club may provide refreshments with proceeds going to the club. Based on the number of sleeping rooms used in a hotel, a hospitality room may be available at no charge.

Conference Announcements

Be sure to announce the conference on the district website and in the district newsletter, and include the deadline for registration. Provide registration forms in advance. Promote early and follow up often. Encourage clubs, areas and divisions to promote the conference. Begin early in the year by announcing the conference date and location. Later, provide program information as it becomes available.

News Releases

Send news releases about the district conference to local media, such as newspapers, radio and television. The most newsworthy event is the Toastmasters International Speech Contest, so focus your public relations efforts on media coverage of this event. Be sure to publicize any prominent speakers on the program and the Communication and Leadership Award (Item 1971) recipient.

Contact your local convention and visitors’ bureau or chamber of commerce regarding a free listing to help promote your district conference. Refer to Let the World Know (Item 1140) for more ideas and guidelines on promoting your event.

PHYSICAL ARRANGEMENTS

Send conference registration forms to all attending international officers, directors and region advisors. Each needs to know important details such as whether the banquet requires formal attire. Make certain that guest speakers are given every courtesy and that their staging or audiovisual needs are met.

Registration Desk

Situate the conference registration desk in a lobby or foyer, close to the conference events. Locate two or three six-foot tables and some chairs. Be sure to have the registration desk amply staffed with local, enthusiastic Toastmasters.

Meal Tickets

Sell tickets in advance to guarantee meal functions. Ask the hotel or catering service how soon it needs a firm guarantee. Be careful not to over-guarantee on the meal counts and end up with a loss. Selling tickets in advance and not at the door helps you arrive at correct guarantee figures. Obtain district conference attendance figures for the past three years to guide you in making arrangements.

Room Set-up

The education program chair works closely with the venue chair in making the physical arrangements for all events and sessions of the conference. This means working with event site personnel to provide platforms, lecterns, audiovisual and other equipment needed for individual sessions. Make certain speakers’ equipment and room layout needs are met.

Features in Promotional Material

- Program topics to be presented at the seminars
- Registration and event costs
- Hotel reservations
- Advance registration
- Attractions in the host city

This means working with event site personnel to provide platforms, lecterns, audiovisual and other equipment needed for individual sessions. Make certain speakers’ equipment and room layout needs are met.
Provide detailed room charts or diagrams to the event site staff early in your conference planning. A chart should be prepared for every meeting, including banquets, education sessions, special events, annual meetings and entertainment. If possible, arrange for meeting rooms to be fully set up the night before the events. Then check the set-up at least an hour before an event begins.

Flag Protocol
Prior to the district conference, ensure all country flags are displayed appropriately. The host country’s flag is always placed stage right (the section of the stage that is right of center as you face the audience); this is known as the position of honor. Additional flags are placed stage left (the section of the stage that is left of center as you face the audience). All flags must have the same dimensions and be displayed at the same height.

☑️ CONFERENCE BANQUET
The banquet often is the showcase event for a district conference.

The banquet provides the opportunity to allow an international officer or international director to give a keynote address. It’s also an opportunity to recognize outgoing and incoming district leaders and any special guests in the audience.

Banquet Set-up
For the banquet and speech contest, you may need a head table or two, placed on risers, to accommodate program participants. Contestants are typically seated at a reserved table on the floor in front. Conduct the speech contest from a contest platform separate from the head table. Ideally, the contest platform is located on a side of the room opposite the head table. Place the timing device in front of the platform, clearly visible to contest speakers.

🔺 The Head Table
Typically, there is one head table with dignitaries and their guests. In most instances, the district director, program quality director, club growth director, the immediate past district governor, and any international officer, international director or region advisor are seated at the head table. Keep in mind that guests of these dignitaries are always seated to the right of their partner.

If it is the last district conference of the year, it may be appropriate to seat the incoming district director, program quality director and club growth director at the head table as well.
Introductions
Announcing head table guests as part of the march-in eliminates the need for the presiding officer to introduce everybody at the head table later on.

The highest-ranking leader or the guest of honor (international officer, international director or region advisor) is typically announced last.

Order of Introduction of Head Table
1. Other guests, such as the conference chair and their guests
2. Incoming club growth director and program quality director and guests (at last district conference of the year)
3. Immediate past district governor and guest
4. Club growth director and guest
5. Program quality director and guest
6. District director and guest
7. Guest of honor (international officer, international director or region advisor) and guest

After the head table march-in or introduction, and prior to serving the meal, the district director introduces special guests seated in the audience. Introduce those of highest rank first.
Order of Introduction of Special Audience Members

1. Local dignitaries (government officials, media, etc.)
   - attend the conference in an unofficial capacity
2. Toastmasters officers (who currently serve on the Board of Directors and attend the conference in an unofficial capacity)
3. International directors (who currently serve on the Board of Directors and attend the conference in an unofficial capacity)
4. Region advisor
5. Past international presidents and past international directors
6. Past region advisors
7. Past district governors
8. Current district leaders

The Speech Contest

The district speech contest is an essential aspect of the district conference. The speech contest brings many members and guests to the event.

Be sure all contest officials are thoroughly familiar with the speech contest rules. Select judges carefully and have the chief judge provide them with an orientation. Arrange with the venue so that no food or beverage service takes place during the speech contest.

ELECTIONS

DISTRICT LEADER ELECTIONS

District leader elections are held at districts’ annual meetings at district conferences worldwide between March 15 and June 1.

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article VII: Officers, (d) Qualifications

All district officers must be active individual members of member clubs and must be in good standing with Toastmasters International.

District Nominating Committee

The work of the district nominating committee is critical in ensuring long-term success for the district. Led by the nominating chair, the committee screens district leader candidates for eligibility. Identifying the best candidates for elected positions takes time and commitment. The committee should not limit itself to considering only those members who have expressed an interest in running, but should seek out qualified candidates. See Policies and Protocol, Protocol 9.0: District Campaigns and Elections, 1. District Nominating Committee.

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article XI: Committees, (b) District Nominating Committee

The district director shall appoint the nominating committee chair no later than October 1. The remaining committee members shall be appointed no later than November 1 and shall consist of no fewer than five members. The committee shall operate under the procedural rules adopted by the Toastmasters International Board of Directors for the selection of candidates for the elective district offices. The committee’s results shall be reported in writing to the district director no fewer than six weeks before the district’s annual meeting. The district director shall submit the nominating committee report to the members of the district council at least four weeks prior to the annual meeting.

District Nominating Committee Resources

- Governing documents: www.toastmasters.org/policies
- District nominating committee: www.toastmasters.org/nominatingcommittee

District Leader Campaigns

District leader candidates may give educational presentations at district conferences, but not at any non-election meeting. All candidates are given equal opportunity. The district director identifies the time, place and length of the presentations.

Candidates are allowed to distribute campaign materials at the district conference and non-election meetings and display the materials in the Candidates’ Corner where each candidate has equal access. However, candidates are not allowed to advertise in district publications or at conference programs.

Candidates may be introduced at non-election meetings as long as all candidates present are introduced.

District leader candidates are not permitted to host or contribute to a hospitality suite at any district event.

Campaign Resources

- Guidelines for candidates and campaigns: www.toastmasters.org/districtcampaigns
- Candidate speeches and voting logistics: www.toastmasters.org/districtcampaignspeeches
- General district election information: www.toastmasters.org/districtelectioninformation

DISTRICT NOMINATING COMMITTEE

The district nominating committee is charged with nominating candidates for district office. The purpose of the committee is to find the best candidates possible to serve as district leaders.
District Leader Election Voting Privileges

All of the members who can vote in a district election constitute the district council. Voting members of the district council are the club presidents, vice presidents education and the members of the district executive committee.

The club presidents and vice presidents education each have one vote on the council. Either may designate any active member of their club to act as proxy. No other proxies are allowed. Belonging to more than one club doesn’t give a member any additional votes.

The voting strength of club representatives on district councils must be protected and preserved. No district may add voting members to district councils who are not club representatives or members of the district executive committee.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

Protocol 9.0: District Campaigns and Elections, 7. District Proxies, B–C

B. The district sends a credential or proxy form to each club president and vice president education 30 days before a district council meeting in the district newsletter or in the mailing announcing the meeting.

C. The credential or proxy form must contain the district number; a description of the event; the date and location of the meeting; space for the club name and number; space for the name of the club president, vice president education, or proxy holder who attends; space for the signature of the president or vice president education authorizing the credential or proxy; and the date the credential or proxy is signed.

Unless the district director has received official notification from World Headquarters that a club’s charter has been revoked, that club’s leaders are entitled to voting privileges. Because clubs remain in good standing until November 30 and until May 31, regardless of whether their current membership-renewal dues are paid, all clubs may vote at a district conference. When the charter process is complete, a newly chartered club is entitled to voting privileges.

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATIVE BYLAWS

Article X: Council Meetings, Quorum, Proxies, and Voting, (e) Voting

Each member of the district council in attendance at a council meeting, or his or her proxy...is entitled to one vote. Any active individual member who carries the proxies of both the club president and vice president education from a member club is entitled to two votes; and any such individual member who is also entitled to a vote as a member of the district executive committee is entitled to three votes. All other members of the district council shall be limited to a maximum of two votes.

District Leader Election Quorum

One-third of club presidents and vice presidents education in the district (or proxy holders) constitutes a quorum for all district council meetings. If a quorum is not present at a district council meeting, business decided at the meeting is valid only after it is approved by a majority of clubs on the basis of two votes per club. Notify the clubs as soon as possible after the meeting so that affirmation can be obtained within a reasonable time. See District Administrative Bylaws, Article X: Council Meetings, Quorum, Proxies, and Voting; (c) Quorum.

Keep in mind that if a club has not filled a vote-holding officer position, that vote is lost; it may not be transferred to anyone else.
District Leader Election Proxies

Either the club president or vice president education of any club may designate, in writing, any active individual member of the club to act as a proxy for him or her at any district council meeting. If the president or vice president education does not attend the meeting and has not designated a fellow club member to act as his or her proxy holder, the officer or proxy holder in attendance casts two votes. The intent of this provision is to ensure that every club is represented by two votes. The proxy holder must present the proxy in paper form to the credentials desk. A proxy holder cannot transfer or assign a proxy to someone else. See District Administrative Bylaws; Article X: Council Meetings, Quorum, Proxies, and Voting; (d) Proxies.

District Leader Election Credentials

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Protocol 9.0: District Campaigns and Elections, 8. District Credentials
A. The credentials chair is, when practicable, a past district director.
B. The credentials chair obtains a list of eligible clubs in good standing; a list of current district council members (club presidents, vice presidents education, and district officers eligible to vote); and ballots indicating the office being contested or sequentially numbered for each contest election.
C. The names of nominated candidates are printed on district ballots; the names of floor candidates are not.
D. The credentials chair ensures that no campaign materials are in the credentials area and that ballots are numbered sequentially, only issued to current district council members and only for clubs in good standing, and are signed for upon receipt.

The district director, program quality director and club growth director may request lists of clubs eligible to vote for the credentials committee from World Headquarters. Individuals who serve on the credentials committee are not permitted to wear or display campaign paraphernalia.

District Leader Candidates

At the meeting, the district director, or a person designated by the district director, explains the election rules and procedures, as described below, to the delegates.

The district director requests all candidates—or candidates’ representatives if candidates are not present—to take seats as close to the platform as possible.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
A. The district director or a person designated by the district director explains the election rules and procedures to the delegates.
B. A candidate speaks on his or her own behalf. If a candidate is not present, an authorized representative may speak for the candidate.
C. A representative speaker may not be a member of the district executive committee, a member of the nominating committee, the credentials chair, or any other meeting official, unless he or she resigns before the district’s annual meeting begins.
D. The district nominating committee chair shall present its report. In the chair’s absence, the district director designates a person to present the report. The chair or designee announces the names of the committee members and reads the name and club number of each nominated candidate, in alphabetical order, for each of the offices of district director; program quality director; club growth director; public relations manager, administration manager, and finance manager if elected; and division directors.

E. For each office, the district director inquires whether there are additional nominations from the floor.
   i. Floor candidates or, in their absence, their designees state their eligibility qualifications.
   ii. Floor candidates must be nominated by a member of the district council or their proxy holder.
   iii. Floor candidates for district director, program quality director, club growth director, and division director sign the Officer Agreement and Release Statement, which is sent to World Headquarters.
   iv. When nominations are complete, the district director declares the nominations for that office closed.

F. The balloting for each office takes place immediately following the close of nominations for the office. The number of votes that a member may cast is governed by Article X, Section (e) of the District Administrative Bylaws.

G. After nominations for an office are closed, if there is only one candidate for the office, the district director may entertain a motion to dispense with the secret ballot for the uncontested office or instruct the administration manager to cast a single ballot for the candidate.

H. The district director informs candidates that they are expected to assign one member to assist or observe the counting of the ballots.

I. Each election is completed and the winner announced before moving to the subsequent office.

J. Candidates nominated for one office and not elected to the office may be nominated from the floor for subsequent offices.

K. Any candidate who receives a majority of the votes cast is declared elected. In the event no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast for a contested office, voting continues with the use of special ballots and without the name of the candidate receiving the fewest votes. Such procedure continues until one of the candidates receives a majority of the votes.

L. Upon adjournment of the district’s annual meeting, all election results are final. Results of the election are displayed in the registration area as soon as possible following adjournment of the meeting.

M. All proxies and ballots are retained for 24 hours following the close of the meeting for review only by the district director or district credentials chair, as necessary, and immediately thereafter destroyed by the district director or the district director’s designee.
District Leader Installation

The district leader installation ceremony is often conducted at the district’s annual meeting between March 15 and June 1. The purpose of this ceremony is to formally induct new district leaders and get their public commitment to achieve the district mission and lead their district to Distinguished recognition. Generally, the district director is the most appropriate person to serve as inducting officer. However, if the ceremony coincides with a visit from an international officer, international director or region advisor, then one of these leaders may be asked to conduct the ceremony.

If time is a concern, you may decline to induct the area directors, or you may induct area and division directors as a group. If time is not constrained and the district wishes to induct additional appointed leaders or committee chairs, do so before inducting area directors or as you induct the administration manager, finance manager and public relations manager.

District Leader Election Resources

- Elections: www.toastmasters.org/elections
- List of clubs eligible to vote: listrequest@toastmasters.org

AREA DIRECTOR ELECTIONS

Area Director Election Voting Privileges

The area council meeting, at which the election for area director is conducted, must be held at least two weeks before the annual meeting of the district council. The current area director determines the time and place of the meeting. Written notice of the election must be given to the president of each club in the area at least four weeks before the election. Notice includes the qualifications for candidates and lists the voting members of the area council.

No other member of the area council has a vote.

Area Director Election Quorum

A majority of the voting area council members or their proxies constitutes a quorum. If a quorum is not present, an election cannot be held unless another meeting is conducted which is properly noticed and at which a quorum is present.

Area Director Election Proxies

The club president, vice president education and vice president membership may designate, in writing, any member of the club to act as a proxy at the area council election meeting. In the event two of those leaders don’t attend the meeting and have not designated, in writing, active members of the club to act as their proxies at the meeting, the leader or proxy holder in attendance is deemed to hold the proxy of the others and may cast the club’s three votes. If two valid proxy holders are present and cannot decide among themselves who will cast the third vote, the third proxy goes to the highest-ranking leader (or proxy holder) present. Keep in mind that if one of these three club officer roles is not filled, no one may vote on behalf of that role.
Area Director Candidates

Each club in the area may submit to the area director, in writing, any member in good standing as a candidate for area director. The area director places the names of candidates from the clubs in nomination at the election. Nominations then will be accepted from the floor. After the nominations are closed, if there is only one candidate, the area director declares that candidate elected.

If two or more candidates are nominated, each candidate is entitled to a two-minute speech. The speeches are delivered in alphabetical order of the candidate’s last name. If a candidate is not present, that candidate’s representative may give the speech.

Each area council member in attendance or proxy holder is entitled to one vote. No area council member or proxy holder may cast more than three votes, even if that person is a member of more than one club.

The area director may act as a club proxy holder and may cast up to three votes. However, in the case of a tie, the area director is entitled to only one additional vote to break the tie.

Area Director Election Secret Ballots

Voting is by secret ballot. Any candidate who receives a majority of the votes cast is declared elected. In the event no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast for a contested office, voting continues without the name of the candidate who received the fewest votes. This procedure continues until one of the candidates receives a majority of the votes. The area director then notifies the district director of election results.

ELECTIONS OF INTERNATIONAL LEADERS AND AMENDMENTS

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
Policy 9.1: International Campaigns and Elections, 8. International Candidate Endorsements, B
District directors, program quality directors, club growth directors, region advisors, and international officers and directors must not take any action to endorse or to officially support any international officer or director candidate, including with photographs or quotes, or by placing a candidate’s name in nomination. They are permitted to respond to the assessment tool and to questions from the ILC.

International Leader Campaigns and the Hospitality Suite

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL
D. No candidate or candidate’s representative may host a hospitality suite. A hospitality suite is defined as a room where refreshments are provided and attendance is open to any member.
E. If a district or region hosts a hospitality suite, no candidate or candidate’s representative, may give contributions or engage in political activities in the suite.
F. A candidate may have a room for storing material and meeting with campaign workers, but the room may not be used for solicitation of votes.
International Leader Election Proxies

Toastmasters International sends an official proxy form to each club president for the Annual Business Meeting. If a club member plans to attend the meeting, the club president or secretary may assign the member as the club’s proxy holder.

BYLAWS OF TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL

Article X: Annual Business Meeting, Section 2: Proxies

Any member club, if unrepresented at the Annual Business Meeting by a delegate or alternate from among its own active individual members, may designate as its proxyholder, in writing, any active individual member of any other member club. Upon presentation of proper credentials, such proxyholder shall have the right to vote for the club represented in addition to any other right to vote which such proxyholder may have.

If a club assigns the district director as its delegate, the district director in office at the time of the International Convention will cast the club’s votes at the Annual Business Meeting.

Amendments to the Bylaws of Toastmasters International

Sometimes amendments to the Bylaws of Toastmasters International are voted on during the Annual Business Meeting.

POLICIES AND PROTOCOL

When amendments to the Bylaws are to be voted on, there is a method in the proxy process for a club to indicate how it wishes its votes to be cast.

If no choice is indicated, the delegate is free to cast the votes as he or she believes will be in the best interest of the organization.

SPEECH CONTESTS

The program quality director is the coordinator and supervisor of the district’s speech contests; as such, encourage members to participate in the International Speech Contest and other contests your district may conduct. Strive to be your district’s primary expert in the speech contest rules and be prepared to answer rules questions and fairly manage disputes as they arise.

DISTRICT VISITS

Each year, Toastmasters leaders, including international officers and directors and region advisors, visit districts. (International officers include the International President, International President-Elect, First Vice President, Second Vice President and Immediate Past International President.) The purpose of district visits is to build relationships, promote marketing opportunities and recognize certain districts for their achievements. These visits are generally held during district conferences, Toastmasters Leadership Institutes or district executive committee meetings.

The way district visits are managed is determined by the type of Toastmasters leader who is visiting. International director and region advisor visits are coordinated by the district, while international officer visits are coordinated by both the district and World Headquarters, with World Headquarters acting as a liaison for the district. The chart below outlines the steps a district must follow to prepare for each type of visit.

CORPORATE VISITS

When an international officer or director, or region advisor visits the district, it’s a great opportunity to visit local corporations and establish awareness about Toastmasters. There are three types of corporate visits: corporate sponsor relationship visits, corporate sponsor recognition visits and new club marketing visits.

The purpose of a marketing visit is to promote Toastmasters to the organization's decision-makers and staff.
NEW CLUB MARKETING VISITS
A marketing visit is a meeting between a Toastmasters representative and a representative of a corporation or organization that may or may not currently sponsor a Toastmasters group. Visits may be initial meetings between a company or organization and a Toastmasters representative, or a demonstration meeting presented to generate interest among the company’s staff.

HOW TOASTMASTERS HELPS COMPANIES
• Table Topics™ builds impromptu speaking skills by giving employees the confidence and expertise needed to communicate effectively
• Structured communication and leadership development programs teach skills that help the company grow and succeed
• Positive evaluations help employees give and receive feedback while improving their listening and presentation abilities
• Every employee practices leading meetings and motivating teams by participating in various meeting roles

New Club Marketing Visit Guidelines
• Before the visit, research the organization.
• Plan to keep the visit short—approximately 15 to 20 minutes.
• Stay focused on the value Toastmasters provides to the corporation and its employees. (This is not the time to talk about the Distinguished Club Program or district activities.)
• Begin the visit by building rapport.
• Listen to the company executive for areas of interest that you can tie back to Toastmasters.
• Ask questions to determine what the organization’s needs are and what is important to them. (The research you do before the visit helps you determine which questions to ask.)
• Discuss how Toastmasters can help the company reach its goals.
• Gauge the company representative’s interest during the discussion. Once the representative confirms commitment to start a club onsite, schedule a demonstration meeting.
• Discuss the level of financial support the company would like to contribute. (Some companies pay the new club fee or subsidize the membership dues, as well as provide a meeting location.)
• Provide contact information for the district leader assigned to follow up, and establish that person as the individual responsible for coordinating the next steps.
• Send a thank-you note within three days of the visit, again providing the district leader’s information as the company’s point of contact.
